

Oregon Outside Sales/Account Manager

Summary

Associated Energy Systems, a leading distributor of Hearth and Outdoor products in the Western United States is adding to their growing sales team and seeks to fill a Oregon Outside Sales Territory Manager position.

We seek a high energy, high integrity individual with strong relationship and communication skills. Experience in the Hearth Products or Outdoor Products industry is preferred. The company provides competitive salary plus commission along with company vehicle and all necessary home office and business tools along with a strong benefits package. If you are a self – starter then this could be the job for you.

The successful candidate is seeking to build professional relationships within our customer base as well as our sales and marketing team while also exhibiting exceptional internal drive. Our customer base includes traditional dealers, home and hardware stores, propane dealers, heating and ventilation accounts as well as builders, architects and other specifiers.

If you feel you fit the above guidelines and are looking to grow personally and professionally please send your resume to: shawnar@aes4home.com